

Large area - passing

Star wars

How it works

Red Player 1 tries to dribble the ball to get through the cone gate at the other end of the playing area.

The other players try to pass their ball to hit the ball of Player 1. (Stress hitting through the middle of the ball to keep it down).

If Player 1's ball is hit they go back to the side and another player goes to the end to attempt the challenge.

If Player 1 gets to the other end, then give the other players fifteen seconds to reload their missiles (get a ball ready) before the player sets off to try and get back. Player 1 then keeps going until their ball is hit.

Set individual records which players could try and beat on another occasion.

Possible changes

You can play this as a team challenge, especially if you have a larger group, where each player gets one attempt to keep going until their ball is hit and they are knocked out.

Combine the individual results to get a team score that the others then have to try and beat.
