

Three cone game

How it works

Play 3 v 3 with normal game rules but no players can use their hands.

The yellow team try to dribble/pass the ball between them to advance up the playing area.

Red players defend the cones at their end of the playing area.

The yellow team can score by knocking down one of the cones.

This cone must then stay down, so next time the yellow team tries to score they only have two cones to aim at.

The red team now gets possession of the ball and the yellow team must retreat into their own half to give the red players a chance to get going.

The red team now tries to score against the yellow team by knocking down one of their cones.

Possible changes

You can play any numbers on each side or have more cones to knock down.

A small semi-circular cone exclusion area can be set up around the cone goals if players persist in standing right in front of the cone(s) when defending.
