

Three team game

How it works

The red and yellow teams play a 4 v 4 normal rules game within one side of the playing area whilst a third blue team wait ready at the other end.

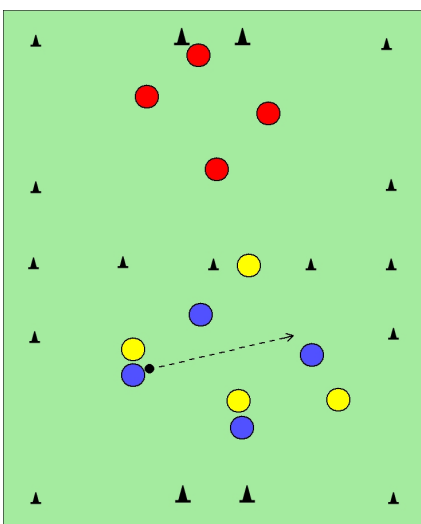

Play starts with a pass in from the halfway line.

No goalkeepers are required.

The yellow team has to try and keep possession and combine to score in the red goal.

If they do this then play is restarted with a pass from the halfway line but attacking in the opposite direction to try and score in the blue goal.

If the defending team (blue) win possession of the ball then they can attack the opposite team (red) as long as they can get the ball across the halfway line without it being taken off them.

If the yellow team were to win it back then they would continue to attack against the blue team. This would be the case until a goal is scored or possession is lost and the ball successfully taken over halfway by the blue team.

If an attacking team does not score within 2/3 minutes then they lose the chance to attack and the ball starts from the halfway line with the team who were defending.

Possible changes

Add goalkeepers if you wish and play with larger teams.
